January 2017

Upcoming Services

January 8, 2017 10:30 AM

Trespassing Zen Gardens

Dr. Alexander Riegel      Worship Associate: Meghan Boomhower

Zen gardens are those wonderful little contemplative coffee table items that can bring stillness and peace to daily life when we pause - just long enough - to contemplate them. They bring to mind images of aged Zen masters sitting quietly in natural satori (moment of enlightened understanding). But what happens when we find footprints in our Zen garden sand?! Suddenly, change is afoot! Shall we hunt the scoundrel down, or...?

January 15, 2017 10:30 AM

The Language of Inclusion

Rev. Kimi Riegel      Worship Associate: Joseph Buttiglieri

We are all working very hard so our words don't offend. We learn that some of our common words are actually offensive. PC - is it a good thing? What limits does that put on communication? What are the ways we can redefine language and take it as our own?

January 22, 2017 10:30 AM

What Are You Worth?

Cynthia Luce      Worship Associate: Chuck Palmer

If you had to put a price on your life, could you do it? What would it be? Where would you even start?

January 29, 2017 10:30 AM

The Post-Election Blues

Rev. Emeritus John Corrado      Worship Associate: Janet Weber

No, this isn't a twelve bar ballad, though a slight paraphrase of an old tune, applied to the Presidential election may well describe the situation: "The song is ended, but the malady lingers on." Some cherished UU principles have been challenged. How? What can we do?

Every New Year we sing it but I wonder, do we ever reflect much on what it means? "Auld Lang Syne" means, essentially, "days long since passed." So the song asks, should we forget old acquaintances and days long since passed? I'll cut to the chase with this one... we must let go, but we must not forget. We must not forget because those old acquaintances, those days long since passed, are what have made us who and what we are today. So we owe a deep debt of gratitude... let us not forget. Indeed, this New Year, when you lift that pint, don't simply sing the song. Take a genuine moment and recall to mind... then drink with memory and gratitude, to those old acquaintances and those days long since passed... for that is the stuff of which we are made...

On another note, my Study Break begins Jan. 10, I return Feb. 13. While I am away, Rev. Kimi Riegel and Rev. Emeritus John Corrado, along with some of our Worship Associates, will fill the pulpit. Rev. Kimi Riegel will take care of urgent pastoral duties, i.e., hospitalization and death (but by all means, please keep breathing while I am away!). In the event you need to reach her, try contacting her directly, but in the event you do not have her contact information, please contact Candy in the church office or our President Robin Ramsay. As for me, I will be in India again, with deep gratitude for the opportunity to serve this amazing congregation and staring at my navel in hopes of finding further wisdom to share with you on the path...

*For auld lang syne, my jo,
for auld lang syne,
we'll tak' a cup o' kindness yet,
for auld lang syne.*

Namaste,

Alex

Message from the GPUC Board of Trustees

GPUC is such a warm, friendly place at holiday time. I'm so glad to be here.

Vision:

I am thrilled that the congregation has passed a Vision Statement to direct our efforts in the coming years! Thank you Chris Vadino and the other Visioneers for your dedicated and highly effective leadership of this project. The Board has created 2 Task Forces to carry on the process of realizing the vision in practical action, and will be working on finding members for these groups. One task force, chaired by Chris Vadino, will concentrate on needed improvements to our buildings and grounds. The second task force will concentrate on needed programming improvements.

Ongoing Efforts:

Prior to the Vision Statement, the Board has already begun considering landscaping options, fundraising options, and options to support membership growth and communications within our church and with the wider community. Of course, our efforts to provide air conditioning continue, with work to begin in the next few weeks. Russ Chavey, our Grounds Chair, brought the Board the landscape plan completed by Candy Sweeney, whom we hired last year. We plan to implement improvements in stages beginning with plantings and perhaps some minor construction in the Memorial garden this Spring.

Financial Issues:

Since we are approaching the second half of this church year, the Board and Finance Committee will begin the Canvass process and Budgeting for next year. Thanks to Paul Rowady and Joe Buttiglieri for leading the Canvass and to Juli Moore for taking on organization of the Fellowship Dinner.

Committee Info and Thanks:

Thanks to Leadership Development and RE for an innovative Coffee strategy which is described elsewhere. I hope we will all support the RE program by contributing to the "tip jar". Thanks to Cynthia Luce and Pat Gillis who have tirelessly provided pithy sayings for our Wayside Pulpit, the sign on Maumee. They are stepping down from this position and are seeking someone to replace them. Thank you to Miriam Engstrom, who has volunteered to chair our Social Justice Committee. And thanks to the subcommittee chairs, Maurya Kay and Miriam Engstrom. The committee is looking for a chair for the Anti-Racism subcommittee. Thanks to Chris Whitwell (and me) for organizing the online mini-auction where $7000 was raised for the church. Thanks to all who participated by donating and bidding.

Happy New Year!

If you have been visiting our church this fall and would like to learn more about Unitarianism/Universalism, please join us on Sunday, January 8, after church service in our church library.

Reverend Alex, along with myself, our church staff, and our GPUC president will be hosting a "New U Gathering" on January 8. Light refreshments will be served. This will be a great time to share our stories, and ask some questions. We hope we can all get to know each other a bit better!

If you are interested in doing a little advance research, our GPUC website is a great resource to explore to get a feel for our church. The link to this is: <http://www.gpuuc.org/> You can find out about upcoming programming, as well as watch the short informational video which explains a bit more about our religious UU faith.

Please feel free to email me or call with any questions. We would appreciate an RSVP to our church office administrator, Candy Dunn, at gpuc@gpuc.us.

Sunday Coffee Service

We are pleased to announce that Julie Artis, the junior/senior students and parents have accepted responsibility for Sunday coffee services beginning with the first service of the year, January 8, 2017.

This will be a fundraising opportunity for the junior/senior students--perhaps for a trip for the group. The money raised will go to RE for the students. For this to be successful, we will have a 'Gratitude jar' at the coffee setup for the congregation to donate money for the students performing this service for the congregation. The parents, of course, will be assisting their student in preparing, serving, and cleaning up.

So far, Julie and I are proud to announce that parents and students have signed up for dates well into February. Julie is also welcoming anyone from the congregation who would like to participate in Sunday Coffee Service. Just give her a call.

The church has had difficulty in finding a coffee coordinator and volunteers to take care of this important service during the last few months. The Board and the Leadership Development Committee are very grateful to those members who have been providing this service to the church with grace and style.

We are hopeful that the congregation will support this new effort by the students. Please Show Your Gratitude!

Leadership Development Committee-- Sabrina Biernat, Kathy Konwiak, Jeff Marotzke, Karen Webb

Holiday Giving was Wonderful!

It was wonderful what we accomplished together! We helped 123 people, including 75 children and 48 adults, have some holiday meals to remember. In addition, the parents could pick out a book for each child from the 90 donated and two items from the mitten tree collection of 157 for each child to keep warm this winter. Ann Helm knitted 20 hats and donated 10 others. The recipients were grateful and the children were prone to giving hugs of appreciation.

The giving spirit of our Church was manifest in the number of volunteers who signed up. For the first time, 25 whole baskets and one half basket were donated so we did not have to send shoppers to buy baskets of food. Jim Kelly used his new van to pick up 44 beautiful, double glazed, spiral-cut hams wrapped in silver paper. Kristen Foley transferred 35 loaves of bread to Veronica's car for delivery at church, while Randi Borys shopped for 34 bags of fruit on her day off work. The $1,689 in donations were spent wisely.

When the baskets arrived at Church, Janet Weber, Mary Zahler checked the contents and assigned the largest baskets to the biggest families, then they attached a tag sending season's greetings from our Church. Karin Garrett spearheaded counting and packing up the gloves, mittens, hats, scarves and socks and books from the mitten tree and organizing the tables for them at Detroit Merit. She gave each parent assistance in choosing items for their children.

The super-efficient crew that loaded all the baskets into a seven car caravan in record time also unloaded at school in the same manner and were assisted by eight students at the school. Wendy Biernat organized the crew to assemble each family's tote bags and tubs together, while Rudy Wedenoja, as usual, masterminded the best layout and flow. Then the crew used their muscle power to take each family's bountiful baskets on carts and dollies to the cars. When we found out that one woman had to take the bus, Wendy volunteered to drive her home with her heavy load. Thanks to the others in this hard-working crew: The Marck family, Amy Thelen and her son Cory, Robin Ramsay, Jim Kelly & his granddaughters Sarah & Elyse and son Kevin, Mark Reeve and Aaron Smith. The distribution of the baskets was completed in one hour, which was a record. What hustlers!

Thank you to Candy Dunn for her beautiful spreadsheet. Special recognition is due to those who shopped for the baskets of food. Mollie Fletcher brought two baskets, and Debbie Connelly had the most original tub decoration. Other donors: Laurie Arora, Candy Dunn, the Marck family, Dick Olson, Robin Ramsay & Rudy Wedenoja, Shona Spratt, Amy Thelen, Chris Vadino & Chuck Palmer, Laura Wagner, Beth Whitney, Sonja & Mark Franchett, Randi Borys, Cindy Brusilow, Karin Garrett, Tonya Wells & Marty Tylenda, Christy Winder & Russ Chavey, Sloane Artis & Jason Thomas, Margit Jackson, Susan Hartz, Julie & John Artis, Susie Boynton and Anonymous.

A final thanks to those who donated funds for all the activities above. Many gave money in addition to other donations and service. Helping so many others have happy holidays was truly wonderful.
